

John Panichella
CEO

July 6, 2023

Dear Valued Partner,

Solenis is pleased to announce the completion of its previously announced acquisition of Diversey Holdings, Ltd. effective July 5, 2023. The combined company will serve a diverse range of customers around the world, such as the packaging paper and board, tissue and towel, food and beverage, petroleum refining, mineral processing, biorefining, power, municipal, institutional, and pool and spa markets.

With the close of the transaction, the new company will have a significantly increased scale and a broader global footprint. In addition, the combined expertise will result in differentiated solutions, reinforcing Solenis' commitment as a trusted partner with the right people, right experience and right technology to solve customer needs.

Our mission remains focused on delivering value to our customers by improving their operational efficiency, reducing their environmental footprint, enhancing safety in their operations and ensuring optimal hygiene and process water. We value the important relationship we have with you and are committed to continuing to strengthen our partnership and to provide you with the same high-quality products, professional service and dedication to which you are accustomed.

We do not anticipate any immediate impact on our day-to-day operations or how we transact and develop our business with you. All sales and support contacts, product information, order placement and delivery processes will remain unchanged. Any changes that may occur as we move to integrate our IT operations will be communicated to you.

We will do all that we can to ensure a smooth transition, but we recognize that you may have questions. Please reach out to your local sales or support team, read the news release in the Resources section of solenis.com and review the questions and answers accompanying this letter.

At Solenis, we understand that our success depends on you, our business partners. Our employees take great pride in the service and solutions we provide.

We look forward to a continued business relationship with you.

Sincerely,

John E. Panichella
CEO